CHAPTER 1

BACKGROUND

1-1 History and Mission of the NROTC Program. The Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps (NROTC) was established under the authority of the Contract NROTC Program Act of 4 March 1925. The NROTC program mission is to develop future officers morally, mentally, and physically, and to instill in them the highest ideals of duty, loyalty, and the core values of Honor, Courage, and Commitment in order to commission college graduates as naval officers who possess a basic professional background, are motivated towards careers in the Naval Service, and have a potential for future development in mind and character so as to assume the highest responsibilities of command, citizenship, and government.

1-2 University of Arizona NROTC Vision. The goal of the NROTC program at Arizona is to forge commissioned officers who are academically excellent, intellectually curious, and analytically skilled. These leaders will be adept in effectively serving in the United States Naval Services. Graduates from our program will have a solid grasp of naval operations, underpinned by a profound respect and commitment to our naval traditions, history, and core values. Emphasizing teamwork, respect for all, physical fitness, and professionalism. Commissioned officers from Arizona will be prepared to face the demands of the Naval Service with integrity and dedication.

1-3 Standard Operating Procedures. This standard operating procedure serves as a guidebook for new and existing students in this battalion. This guidebook is not all-inclusive.

1-4 Definitions. For consistency, the following definitions apply to this SOP. Further definitions of the Marine Enlisted Commissioning Education Program (MECEP) and the Seaman-to-Admiral-21 (STA-21) program are further outlined in reference (a).

1-5 Honor Code. Military systems, which often operate under extreme duress, are built on a foundation of absolute trust and fidelity. NROTC must instill honor upon future officers during accession training and ensure that honor is carried out into fleet service. A future officer does not lie, cheat, or steal.

Throughout its history, the Naval Service has successfully operated through reliance on certain values held by its personnel. Naval leaders have attributed these values to being among the most important factors that contributed to the success of our organization and to their own personal success. The Navy's and Marine Corps' core values are honor, courage, and commitment. A naval officer must exhibit these values in the everyday practice of the profession. Reference (a) defines HONOR, COURAGE, and COMMITMENT as follows:

1. Honor - Honor is a keen sense of ethical conduct, honesty, integrity, and responsibility. Honor includes honesty at all times no matter the outcome. It is respect to both juniors and seniors. Finally, it includes upholding one's self at all times to the highest personal standards in responsibility and accountability.

2. Courage - Future officers must meet the demands of the Naval Service and the mission when it is hazardous, demanding or otherwise difficult, make decisions in the best interest of the Naval Service and the nation, without regard to personal consequences, meet all challenges while adhering to a higher standard of personal conduct and decency, be loyal to our nation, ensuring the resources entrusted to us are used in an honest, careful and efficient way, and have the moral and mental strength to do what is right, even in the face of personal or professional adversity.

3. Commitment - Every officer is responsible for the safety and professional, personal, and spiritual well-being of their personnel. Future officers must show respect toward all people without regard to race, religion, or sex; treat each individual with human dignity; be committed to positive change and constant improvement; exhibit the highest degree of moral character, technical excellence, quality, and competence; and work together as a team to improve themselves and others.

CHAPTER 2

ORGANIZATION AND STRUCTURE

2-1 NROTC Unit Organization

1. Naval Service Training Command (NSTC) administers the NROTC Program and exercises military command and oversight over NROTCU UA.

2. Unit Staff. The Unit Staff is made up of the following active-duty (AD) and civilian support personnel.

a. The Commanding Officer (CO) / Professor of Naval Science (PNS), an O-6 level billet typically filled by a Navy Captain or Marine Corps Colonel, leads the NROTC Unit and heads the Department of Naval Science. This individual is responsible and accountable to the Department of the Navy (DoN) for fulfilling the NROTC program's mission.

b. The Executive Officer (XO) / Assistant Professor of Naval Science (APNS), usually a Navy Commander or Marine Corps Lieutenant Colonel, also holds the academic rank of Assistant Professor of Naval Science. As the primary assistant to the PNS, the XO is responsible to the CO for the efficient administration and management of the command.

c. The Marine Officer Instructor (MOI), typically a Captain in the Marine Corps, is tasked with teaching Naval Science courses tailored for Marine Option students. Additionally, the MOI serves as the academic advisor and counselor for all Marines and Marine Option Midshipmen (MIDN), guiding their academic and professional development.

d. Naval Science Instructors are typically Lieutenants drawn from various naval communities, including Surface, Air, and Nuclear. Their primary responsibilities include teaching Naval Science courses and serving as academic advisors and counselors for MIDN and OCs. All Officer Instructors, including the MOI, are accorded the academic rank of Instructor in Naval Science.

e. The Assistant Marine Officer Instructor (AMOI) is typically a Staff Sergeant or Gunnery Sergeant in the Marine Corps. They assist the MOI with development and training of all Marine option MIDN. Additionally, the AMOI functions as the Senior Enlisted Advisor for the command and is responsible for maintaining good order and discipline within the NROTC Unit.

f. The Human Resource Assistant (HRA), a government service employee, oversees all human resources and personnel actions for military staff and student members in the NROTC program. For battalion members, the HRA's key responsibility is to ensure the timely and accurate preparation of all necessary paperwork, facilitating the smooth completion of the program, and the commissioning process.

g. The Supply Technician, a government service employee, manages all supply and logistical aspects within the NROTC program. This includes distributing uniforms and textbooks to students and overseeing all governmental financial matters related to the unit's operations.

h. The Coordinator, Administrative Services, ROTC Programs is a university employee who acts as a liaison between the ROTC programs and the university.

2-2 Student Battalion Organization. The Battalion is composed of one company made up of three platoons. The first and second platoons are each broken into three squads of Navy Option MIDN and OCs. The third platoon (Marine Platoon) is broken into two squads and comprises Marine Option MIDN and MECEPs. The Battalion also features five Department Head positions. The Battalion is headed by the Triad. A visual representation of the Battalion is shown in Appendix 2-A. All student billet positions are further described in section 2-3. Changes to company and platoon structure may be done due to an increase or decrease in unit size

2-3 Battalion Billet Selections Towards the end of each semester, the AD staff will select students for billet positions in the upcoming semester. Student billet positions are assigned for the Fall and Spring semesters. The selection process includes consideration of academic performance, military aptitude, participation in unit events and functions, extracurricular activities, the recommendations of off-going billet holders, and the desires of the students. Billet positions are open to MIDN, OCs, and MECEPs.

1. The off-going Battalion Commanding Officer (BNCO) will promulgate the solicitation for billet preferences to the Battalion. MIDN, OCs, and MECEPs shall rank their top three desired billets. Two of the selected billets must comply with the class standing requirements outlined later in this section. One selection may be a "reach billet," typically reserved for a student of a higher academic class.

2. The off-going BNCO will compile the results of the survey and consult with their Battalion Executive Officer (BNXO) and Battalion Sergeant Major (BN SgtMaj) to make recommendations for all billet positions to the Battalion Advisor (BA). The BA is one of the AD staff members who serves as the touch point between the AD staff and student Battalion. The BA will consider these recommendations and use them as the starting point for further deliberation with the other AD staff. The AD staff will make the final recommendation to the CO. The CO approves all billet assignments.

3. Each billet is associated with an academic class year that is intended to fill that billet. The Triad, Company Staff, and all five Department Heads shall normally be filled by 1/C or rising 1/C (a 2/C MIDN in the Spring semester requesting the position of BNCO for the subsequent Fall semester) MIDN, OC, or MECEP. The academic year for OCs and MECEPs works differently than it does for MIDN. These AD students shall request billet positions for the class in which their graduation date most closely aligns. Department Chiefs, Platoon Commanders, and Platoons Sergeants shall normally be filled by a 2/C or rising 2/C MIDN, OC, or MECEP. The billets of Platoon Guide and Squad Leader shall normally be filled by 3/C or rising 3/C MIDN, OCs, or MECEPs. No 4/C MIDN, or equivalent OC or MECEP, shall have a billet.

4. The intended progression is for MIDN, OCs, and MECEPs to move up the "billet ladder" or laterally. They shall not occupy a billet that is subordinate to a billet they have already held. Off-going Triad (BNCO, BNXO, and BN SgtMaj) members, if not fulfilling another Triad role, shall serve as advisors to the position which they left in the following term.

2-4 Battalion Billet Descriptions The following details the responsibilities of billet holders in each position within the battalion. These lists do not include all individual responsibilities but should serve as a minimum baseline. As future Naval and Marine Corps officers, you should strive to outperform the guidelines listed here.

1. Battalion Commanding Officer (BNCO) [1/C]

a. Responsible to the CO, through the Battalion Advisor, for the proper conduct, training, administration, and operations of the battalion.

1. Administrative Officer (S-1) [1/C] a. Provide administrative support to the battalion staff and unit staff.

b. Maintain and prepare all battalion correspondence as directed by the Navy Correspondence Manual.

c. Prepare all orders and bulletins for the Battalion and ensure their proper distribution, Operation Orders (OPORD) or Letters of Instruction (LOI), generated by the Operations Officer.

d. Maintain an accurate and up-to-date battalion roster.

e. Serve as the primary record keeper during all battalion staff meetings, ensuring minutes are being recorded and published soon after the conclusion of the meeting.

f. Serve as the point of contact for revisions of this instruction.

g. May delegate duties to S-1 Chief or S-1A to assist in performing billet functions. However, the S-1 retains full responsibility for the execution of such functions.

h. Ensure the duties and responsibilities of the S-1 Chief and S-1A are properly carried out. Provide effective oversight and mentorship when necessary.

2. Academics Officer (S-1 Chief) [2/C]

a. Serve as the primary assistant to the S-1.

b. Responsible to the S-1 for matters pertaining to battalion academics and the tutoring program.

c. Ensure all MIDN, OCs, and MECEPs are aware of the academic resources available to them at the University of Arizona.

d. Maintain the Study Enhancement Program (SEP). Ensure the Battalion is aware of SEP requirements.

e. Responsible for the enforcement of SEP.

f. Responsible for proper maintenance of the mentor-mentee binder.

g. May delegate responsibilities to the S-1A to assist in performing billet functions. However, the S-1 Chief retains full responsibility for the execution of such functions.

6. Assistant Administrative Officer (S-1A) [3/C]

a. Serve as the assistant to the S-1 and S-1 Chief.

7. Operations Officer (S-3) [1/C]

a. Responsible to the BNCO for the planning, coordination and execution of all battalion training and operations.

b. Prepare and submit the Battalion Plan of the Week (POW) to the Battalion Advisor via the BNXO and BNCO. Following approval, disseminate the POW to the battalion.

c. Develop a training plan for the semester, review all lesson plans, and arrange for guest speakers at Naval Leadership Lab.

d. Assign an Officer-In-Charge (OIC) for all events, ensuring required CALT hours are being met; priority shall be given to 1st Class and 2nd Class MIDN.

e. Provide for the administration and execution of all special events and ceremonies, including required personnel through the Company Commanders and Platoon Commanders.

f. Maintain a file of past operations documents (OPORD, LOI or POW).

g. Coordinate all functional areas within the Battalion to ensure a smooth and efficient battle rhythm/operational tempo.

h. Coordinate the request of classrooms, facilities or transportation as needed for any battalion event.

i. May delegate responsibilities to the S-3 Chief and S-3A to assist in performing billet functions. However, the S-3retains full responsibility for the execution of such functions.

8. Assistant Operations Officer (S-3 Chief) [2/C]

a. Responsible to the operations officer for planning current and future operations.

b. Briefs Battalion on future operations during lab.

c. Responsible for coordination of all color guard events with the AMOI.

d. Responsible for coordination of all Unit volunteer activities.

e. May delegate responsibilities to the S-3A to assist in performing billet functions. However, the S-3 Chief retains full responsibility for the execution of such functions.

9. Operations Support Officer (S-3A) [3/C]

a. Serve as the assistant to the S-3 and S-3 Chief.

10. Supply Officer (S-4) [1/C]

a. The Supply Officer is responsible to the BNCO for all supply-related matters.

d. Assist in the maintenance and updates to the battalion website, Instagram, and official Facebook page. All posts must be approved by the BA.

e. Function to generate a positive image of the Battalion that may enhance public perception and recruitment.

f. May delegate responsibilities to S-6 Chief and the S-6A to assist in performing billet functions. However, the S-6 Chief retains full responsibility for the execution of such functions.

17. Assistant Public Affairs Officer (S-6 Chief) [2/C] a. Serve as the primary assistant to the Public Affairs Officer.

18. Public Affairs Support Officer (S-6A) [3/C]

a. Serve as the assistant to the S-6 and S-6 Chief.

19. Company Commander (COCO) [1/C]

a. The Company Commander is responsible to the BNCO for the proper conduct, training, administration, and operation of the Company.

b. The Company Commander may delegate duties to his/her Company staff or subordinates to assist in performing command functions.

c. Responsible for making a recommendation on student SRCs and providing the SRCs to the appropriate active-duty advisor for decisions.

d. Responsible for informing MIDN of the status of their SRCs in a timely format and updating the SRC tracker with status after AD staff have made their decisions. This may be delegated to Platoon Commanders but is the responsibility of the Company Commander.

20. Company First Sergeant (Co 1stSgt) [1/C] a. Reports directly to the Company Commander and works with the Bn SgtMaj.

b. Responsible for ensuring the accountability of Company personnel at all Battalion and Company events and reporting this status to the Company Commander and Bn SgtMaj.

c. Responsible for, in coordination with the Bn SgtMaj, for enforcing military bearing, standards, and discipline at the Company level.

d. Obtain accurate muster reports from Platoon Sergeant at each formation or evolution.

21. Platoon Commander (PltCmdr) [2/C]

a. Directly responsible to the Company Commander for the performance of his/her Platoon.

b. Ensure that training time for the Platoon is fully utilized during drill, lab and physical training periods.

c. Ensure that timely counseling and corrective action is taken in the event of unsatisfactory conduct from MIDN, OC, or MECEP in the Platoon.

d. Ensure accountability at all battalion, Company/Department and Platoon events.

e. Responsible for the overall well-being of members of the Platoon.

f. Evaluate subordinates and complete MIDN Evaluation Sheets as directed.

g. The Marine Platoon Commander assumes the following additional responsibilities:

(1) Report accountability to the MOI/AMOI prior to the start of, and at the conclusion of all Marine Platoon training events.

(2) Responsible for the planning, coordination, and execution of the Marine Platoon Physical Training Plan and all physical training events.

(3) Meet weekly with the MOI/AMOI to receive staff guidance and brief the staff on the next two weeks' events for Marine Platoon.

h. Responsible for collecting submitted SRCs, making a recommendation, and forwarding to the COCO.

22. Platoon Sergeant (PltSgt) [2/C]

a. Directly responsible to the PltCmdr for the inspection, readiness, and discipline of their Platoon.

b. Ensure accurate muster reports from Squad Leaders.

c. Ensure the Platoon adheres to proper military bearing and grooming standards.

d. Provide instruction on military discipline, bearing, and standards to MIDN within his/her Platoon.

e. Assist PltCmdr in any other way deemed necessary.

f. Obtain accurate muster reports from each Squad Leader at each formation or evolution.

g. Aid the Bn SgtMaj in maintaining basic order and discipline in the battalion.

h. The Marine Platoon Sergeant is responsible to the Marine PltCmdr and the MOI/AMOI for all Marine Supply related matters.

23. Squad Leader (SL) [3/C]

a. Responsible to the PltCmdr for the conduct and performance of their Squad.

b. Responsible for the proper instruction of military bearing and military appearance of their Squad.

c. Provide accurate and timely muster reports at all Battalion, Company, and Platoon level events.

d. Responsible for the smooth and efficient operation of their squad.

e. Responsible for the overall well-being of members of the squad.

f. Responsible for the enforcement of basic military discipline and courtesy within the squad.

g. Provide the PltSgt with an accurate muster report of all Battalion formations and evolutions.

h. Evaluate subordinates and complete MIDN Evaluation Sheets as directed.

24. Marching Member (MM) [4/C and Unassigned]

a. All 4/C MIDN shall be assigned the role of MM. The goal of the 4/C year is for MIDN to orient themselves to the university and the NROTC program before being placed in roles of greater responsibility.

b. MM shall take every opportunity available to them to learn and grow in their leadership abilities in order to best prepare them for subsequent years.

c. MIDN who are not 4/C but are not assigned a billet shall be assigned the role of MM. MIDN are not to treat this as a "break" or to view it as not having responsibilities. Senior MIDN are always responsible for upholding unit standards and values as well as providing mentorship to younger MIDN.

CHAPTER 3

BATTALION ADMINISTRATION

3-1 Midshipmen Evaluations and Performance Assessments

1. At the conclusion of each semester, AD staff conduct evaluations for each battalion member, as per reference (a). These evaluations are comprehensive, covering each aspect of the NROTC program's pillars: mental, moral, and physical fitness. The outcomes of these evaluations contribute to calculating a student's aptitude score. This score is a crucial component in determining their Service Assignment for Navy options and a student's suitability for commissioning. Given the significant impact of these evaluations on a student's future, it is vital that the Battalion leadership provides assessments of everyone's performance to inform the Unit staff process.

2. Evaluations serve several key purposes:

a. Documenting performance for assigning aptitude grades.

b. Providing feedback to enhance performance.

c. Serving as a reference for selection boards, such as Midshipman of the Month (MOTM).

d. Assisting in the overall development of midshipmen as they prepare for commissioned roles in active naval service.

3. The evaluation process will be carried out as follows:

a. No later than the first day of April/November, Initial Raters will complete and forward the Midshipman Performance Assessment (Appendix 3-A) for each subordinate to the next senior member in the Battalion chain of command.

b. Each senior member in the chain of command will review the input by the Initial Rater and endorse the assessment with the opportunity to comment if they choose.

c. No later than the last day of April/November, the BNCO will forward all completed Midshipman Performance Assessments to the appropriate active-duty advisor.

4.. The rating precedence will be as follows:

a. The BNCO will be the Initial Rater for the BNXO. The BNCO themselves will not be rated by any other midshipman, OC, or MECEP.

b. The BNXO shall serve as the Initial Rater for the BN SgtMaj, the COCO, and all S Department Head positions.

c. The Department Head positions shall serve as Initial Raters for their respective Chief and Alpha.

d. The COCO shall serve as the Initial Rater for the Co 1stSgt and all PltCmdrs.

e. PltCmdrs shall serve as the Initial Raters for their respective Plt Sgts, Plt Guides, and Squad Leaders.

f. SLs shall serve as the Initial Raters for all members of their squads not otherwise assigned an Initial Rater.

3-2 Midshipmen Counseling Program

1. The development of students into future naval officers rests on three fundamental fitness pillars: mental (academic), moral (professional/aptitude), and physical. Counseling is designed to document performance under each of these pillars, reinforce expectations of performance and standards of conduct, and instill a sense of personal accountability for performance both as a leader and follower.

2. All counseling actions are at the discretion of the student chain of command and in some manner related to one of the three pillars. Key considerations include:

a. Respect. First and foremost, the key to the Battalion's counseling policy, and any counseling manner for that matter, is mutual respect. Always treat shipmates fairly; punish in private, praise in public.

b. Effective leadership and professional counseling shall ensure that counseling is utilized in conjunction with mentorship. Counseling is often seen as a negative act only. This could not be further from the truth. Effective leaders utilize counseling as a tool to reinforce and drive positive behavior. Counseling also provides leaders with the opportunity to learn more about their subordinates so that they are well versed as to their strengths, weaknesses, and key attributes.

3. At the beginning of the semester, the Battalion will conduct Semester Interviews. These are opportunities for the members of the Battalion to get some facetime with and do a "meet and greet" with Battalion leadership. These interviews will be conducted between battalion members and their immediate superior (i.e. Marching Member to Squad Leader, Squad Leader to Platoon Commander, Platoon Commander to Company Commander, etc.). This is an opportunity for the superior to discuss class schedules, progress, plans, and goals of their subordinates. While there is no formal documentation required for this, effective leaders often find notes of meetings to be helpful in future interactions. This process is separate from the mentorship program described in section 3-4.

4. Disciplinary Counseling. The disciplinary counseling procedure affords Battalion staff the opportunity to correct problems at the lowest level before they evolve into more complicated and consequential issues. Violations that occur within the Battalion result in a Minor Infraction Report (MIR). An MIR is available in Appendix 3-B. The following guidelines apply:

a. Violation of the Honor Code – Any violation of the Honor Code described in reference (a) may result in a Performance Review Board (PRB) at the discretion of the PNS.

b. Unexcused Absence (UA) - If a member of the Battalion is absent from a required event and does not provide advance notification to their COC, an MIR shall be awarded.

c. Late Arrival – If a member of the Battalion arrives at a required event after the designated muster time, an MIR shall be awarded.

d. Violation of unit standards and policies – This list is not comprehensive but can include uniform violations (to include ACA), failing to complete SEP or Tutoring hours, unprofessional behavior, etc. These violations shall result in an MIR being awarded.

e. All counseling shall occur in person. The record of counseling will be typed/neatly handwritten and signed and dated by the member being counseled and the counselor (the immediate superior of the member being counseled). The MIR shall then be routed up the COC, being signed and dated for review by the PltCmdr, COCO, BNCO, and finally the appropriate active-duty advisor. The routing chain may be modified as appropriate (a PltCmdr who receives a MIR will be counseled by the COCO and the MIR will subsequently be routed to the BNCO and AD advisor).

f. The BN SgtMaj is responsible for taking MIRs signed by the BNCO and routing them to the appropriate AD advisor every Friday.

g. Accumulations of MIRs may be utilized by AD staff in carrying out a PRB.

3-3 Liberty and Special Request Chit Policy

1. Special Request Chits (SRCs) are formal written requests utilized in the naval service for various purposes including leave and liberty applications, communication with the chain of command, and other official or undefined requests. An SRC process is implemented within the NROTC Unit to train personnel in their proper use and standardize request procedures. SRCs must be submitted through the Battalion COC and final approval rests with the applicable active-duty advisor. An example SRC is provided in Appendix 3-C.

a. SRCs shall be submitted to the PltCmdr. The PltCmdr shall make a recommendation and forward the SRC to the COCO. The COCO shall make a recommendation and forward the SRC to the appropriate AD advisor for approval/denial.

b. The COCO is responsible for keeping members updated regarding the status of their SRCs and for updating and maintaining the SRC tracker.

2. Timeliness is a critical factor in the SRC process. Requesting personnel must submit their chits well in advance to ensure adequate time for routing and review. It is recommended that chits be submitted at least 10 days before the anticipated event. This allows the chain of command to expedite the routing process, giving the requestor sufficient time to plan or make necessary adjustments. Once submitted, chits should be approved by the Battalion COC within five working days. To facilitate timely execution, chits must be approved by battalion active-duty staff at least five days before the event.

3. SRCs may NOT be submitted for academic reasons related to normal coursework (homework, exam prep, etc.). Students are responsible for adequately managing their time in order to accomplish all necessary commitments.

4. SRCs may be submitted for the following reasons:

a. Academics. Some coursework (commonly engineering capstone projects) may require meeting during NROTC events in order to accomplish. Events like these may warrant an SRC for academic reasons. These types of SRCs are not limited to engineering majors. Any student with similar academic requirements may submit an SRC.

b. Special liberty. The Battalion liberty policy is outlined later in this section. In events where a midshipman requests to extend their liberty outside of normally established guidelines, an SRC is required. Special Liberty cannot be used to miss any required training event such as PRT/PFT/CFT, uniform inspections, Marine Platoon Hikes, or any training designated as essential. Leadership Lab shall not normally be missed.

c. Medical. Maintaining medical readiness is crucial for ensuring that battalion members are always prepared and eligible for commissioning. It is the responsibility of each individual to promptly inform their chain of command if they are unable to attend an event due to illness. In cases where a medical condition hinders participation in unit activities, a medical chit is mandatory to officially document the situation. This chit should be accompanied by a doctor's report, which includes findings, contact information, and the doctor's signature. The medical chit, along with the doctor's report, must be submitted to the active-duty advisor no later than 48 hours after the missed event. Failure to comply with this requirement will result in being marked as Unauthorized Absence (UA).

d. Special Request. In situations where an individual expresses a desire to miss a Battalion event due to unforeseen circumstances, it is imperative that they notify their Battalion COC at the earliest opportunity. The active-duty advisor will review and approve these cases on a case-by-case basis.

5. Liberty Policy. The Commanding Officer establishes the liberty schedule of the NROTC Unit. This schedule generally reflects the schedule observed by NSTC. This schedule may, at times, align with or conflict with university scheduled holidays. For the purposes of travel, an SRC is required for any travel outside the following radii from the NROTC Unit:

a. 24-hour liberty: 120 miles

b. 48-hour liberty: 250 miles

c. 72-hour liberty: 450 miles

d. Any travel outside of the United States requires an SRC to be submitted and approved.

3-4 Mentorship Program

1. Mentorship helps to accelerate and enhance leadership development by serving as a vehicle for transfer of knowledge from senior to junior while creating a structure that fosters a professional relationship between the mentor and mentee. For a mentorship program to be effective, it is critical that the mentor-mentee relationship develops as naturally as possible. Forced mentorship programs rarely see success and risk becoming an administrative burden to both the mentor and mentee.

2. The roles of the mentor and mentee are as follows:

a. The Mentor is an experienced and driven role model who has proven their success in both the Battalion and academically. The mentor is tasked with being an open and available resource to their mentee. The mentor must be capable of adjusting to the needs of their mentee. A mentor may have to switch between the roles of teacher, guide, advisor, role model, and numerous others. Some situations may require a teaching approach; some may require the mentor to act as a coach, ensuring that new information is understood and acted upon appropriately; and yet others may require the mentor to simply provide advice for a situation.

b. The primary role of Mentee is to be a student and a trainee. They must be capable of accepting the areas where they fall short or struggle and actively seek out the necessary help from their mentor. The Mentee is also responsible for reaching out to their Mentor to schedule times to meet. The mentee should position themselves to absorb the knowledge of their mentor and be ready to utilize that knowledge to enhance their chance of success within the Battalion and at the university. Nobody achieves success alone, and the mentee must realize that.

3. The mentorship program within the Battalion will be conducted as follows:

a. At the start of the Fall semester, all 4/C and 3/C MIDN, OCs, and MECEPs will be given the Mentee Biography Form (Appendix 3-D). MIDN will turn this form into their SL. OCs will turn this into the NPO. MECEPs will turn this into the AMOI. The SL will feed these to their respective PltCmdrs. PltCmdrs will utilize these forms to assist in generating mentor-mentee pairings. The NPO will oversee the mentorship of the OCs and the AMOI/MOI will oversee the mentorship of the MECEPs.

b. Approximately two weeks into the Fall semester, mentor-mentee relationships will be formalized. The purpose of the two-week wait is to allow for some natural socialization of underclassmen with upperclassmen to enhance the likelihood of success. The PltCmdrs will utilize the completed Appendix 3-Ds, along with input from the upperclassmen to generate the initial mentor-mentee pairings These pairings may be changed if necessary, as described below.

c. Mentors shall meet with their mentee at least twice per month. This is the formal minimum required by this program. Mentors are encouraged to meet with their mentees on a more frequent basis. At the first meeting, the mentor and mentee should get to know each other and establish semester goals for the mentee. A template is given in Appendix 3-E. This sheet should be referenced at each of the two meetings required by this program. More frequent meetings do not necessitate the use of this form, but it may prove beneficial in driving the conversation.

d. A binder for all mentor-mentee pairings shall be maintained with the AMOI. The binder should contain an index of all mentor-mentee relationships, blank forms for use, and the completed Appendix 3-D and Appendix 3-E for each mentee. Mentors and mentees are encouraged to add additional notes to this folder based on their meetings. If a mentor-mentee relationship is terminated, the mentee folder will be available to the new mentor for reference. This binder and index shall be maintained by the Administrative Officer (S-1).

e. Mentor-mentee pairings will be evaluated by the PltCmdrs at the close of each semester. The PltCmdrs shall take in the feedback provided by the mentor (Appendix 3-F) and the mentee (Appendix 3-G). If a change is to be made, the S-1 must be informed to update the roster. Exceptional circumstances may warrant the changeout of mentors on a timeline sooner than prescribed by this instruction. Such decisions shall be made on a case-by-case basis by the PltCmdr.

CHAPTER 4
ACADEMICS

4-1 Academic Requirements

1. NROTC students must meet and maintain academic standards in order to continue to receive all scholarship benefits and continue in the program.

2. Reference (a) provides explicit information on what personnel must do to maintain their scholarship and eligibility. However, the following general guidelines apply to academics:

a. Remain in good standing with the unit and university within an approved degree plan and major. All Degree Completion Plans (DCPs) need to be signed by the appropriate UA academic advisor and presented to the NROTC class advisor at the start of each semester, and any time a DCP change is required. Appendix 4-A gives an example of a DCP.

b. Carry a full-time academic load, which is defined as a minimum of 12 credit hours, not including Naval Science courses. If circumstances require an academic load of less than 12 credit hours, the student must receive permission from the PNS. This is accomplished by submitting a Request for Reduced Credit Hours memorandum to the PNS. A template is provided in Appendix 4-B. The student shall discuss this request with their class advisor.

c. Fulfill the Naval Science Course Requirements. A list of required courses for MIDN, OCs, and MECEPs is described in reference (a).

d. For Navy Option Scholarship MIDN, Calculus I & II and Physics I & II are required to be completed. This requirement exists regardless of academic major. Calculus and Physics classes shall be taken in person. ONLINE CALCULUS AND PHYSICS WILL NOT BE ACCEPTED. Physics classes must be accompanied by the corresponding physics lab. There are certain approved courses that can be taken at Pima Community College. The student shall speak with their advisor prior to signing up for any course at Pima Community College or any other accredited university.

NOTE: FAILURE TO MEET THE CALCULUS AND/OR PHYSICS REQUIREMENTS RISKS BEING PLACED ON AN ACADEMIC LEAVE OF ABSENCE (LOA) PER REFERENCE (A)

e. The calculus requirement is to be completed by the end of the sophomore (3/C) year.

f. The physics requirement is to be completed by the end of the junior (2/C) year.

g. Additional requirements for courses concerning English, World Culture, and American History/National Security Policy are outlined in reference (a).

3. The Navy maintains rigorous academic standards to earn a commission. For this reason, students shall:

a. Request a major change with the class advisor prior to initiating the major change process with the university. Details about permitted major changes are outlined in reference (a). There are strict requirements for Scholarship MIDN, OCs, and MECEPs. The major that a College Program student pursues has a direct impact on their competitiveness for earning a scholarship.

b. Receive permission from the PNS through their class advisor prior to dropping any course. An example request is given in Appendix 4-B c. Receive permission from the PNS through their class advisor to be enrolled in fewer than 12 credit hours, excluding Naval Science. An example request is given in Appendix 4-B

d. Receive permission to take Summer semester or Winter semester courses if the student expects for the courses to be paid for by the Navy. An example request is given in Appendix 4-B

4-2 Academic Deficiencies See reference (a) for guidelines on minimum GPAs and other demonstrated academic deficiencies. Unless revised by reference (a), failure to obtain a semester GPA above 2.50 (3.0 for STA-21(N)) or failing one or more classes will result in a PRB and/or letter of warning and can result in disenrollment from the NROTC program. Students exhibiting academic difficulty shall be placed in the Battalion study enhancement program and/or calculus tutoring/physics tutoring program. It is incumbent upon the students to let active-duty staff know early they are having academic issues.

4-3 Study Enhancement and Tutoring Procedures

1. The Study Enhancement Program (SEP) exists to assist students in developing effective study habits and achieving academic success. The program is administered by the Academics Officer (S-1 Chief). SEP is a mandatory program intended to ensure that MIDN, OCs, and MECEPs reach their full academic potential and meet the NROTC program's rigorous academic standards. These academic standards are discussed in detail in reference (a) and an overview is given in section 4-1.

2. SEP is required for all students during their first semester participating in the NROTC program. Standard SEP hours will be 10 hours of documented study per week. After the first semester, academic performance will be evaluated and students with a term GPA of ≥ 3.50 will be allowed to discontinue SEP participation.

3. Students who are no longer required to participate in SEP after their first semester will be required to resume participation in SEP under the following circumstances:

a. Any student with a PRB related to academics shall complete 10 hours per week of SEP unless otherwise directed by the PNS via PRB decision.

b. Any student with a term/previous term GPA or cumulative GPA ≤ 2.5 shall complete 10 hours per week of SEP unless otherwise directed by their class advisor.

c. Any student is able to participate in SEP as a means to hold themselves accountable for study hours. Voluntary participation in SEP requires adherence to all requirements of SEP.

d. STA-21(N) OCs have specific academic requirements delineated in reference (a). OCs in their first term must complete 15 hours per week of SEP. SEP hours may be relaxed in subsequent terms by the PNS.

e. Any student who is enrolled in Calculus I/II or Physics I/II shall still be required to complete 2 hours per week of tutoring hours, as required by reference (a), regardless of GPA. For example, a 4/C scholarship MIDN who earned a GPA of 3.65 after their first term will no longer be required to log 10 hours in the SEP program, however, they must still log 2 hours per week of tutoring hours.

4. STA-21(N) OCs have specific academic requirements delineated in reference (a). OCs in their first term must complete 15 hours per week of SEP. SEP hours may be relaxed in subsequent terms by the PNS.

5. SEP hours logging shall be conducted as follows:

a. Each student must submit their required hours for the previous week to the appropriate drop box within the Battalion Share Drive by COB each Monday.

b. Mandatory tutor hours are allowed to count towards SEP hours and may be done concurrently (i.e. a student who is required to complete 10 hours of SEP and is enrolled in Calculus I may include the 2 hours of required calculus tutoring hours as a part of their 10 hour requirement. They are not required to complete 12 hours).

c. SEP hours may be conducted in any University of Arizona Library, the Veterans Education and Transition Services Center, South Hall, any Pima Community College Library, the University of Arizona Think Tank or equivalent tutoring services, Learning Centers, any Pima County library, or at professor office hours.

6. The tutoring program. IAW reference (a), any student enrolled in Calculus (I or II) or Physics (I or II) are required to complete 2 hours per week of tutoring in these courses.

a. Hours from any of the following services may count towards weekly tutoring hours: University sponsored tutor services such as Think Tank, professor office hours, tutoring by a Teaching Assistant, tutoring via AD class advisor, and the tutoring provided by upper-class midshipmen who has completed the course and received a letter grade of B or higher. For the purpose of tutoring in the NROTC program, “upper-classman” will be considered a MIDN 3/C or higher who has already completed the course.

b. Tutoring hours are submitted in the same manner as SEP described above.

OPERATIONS

5-1 General

1. Throughout the semester, NROTC students are required to fulfill various program-specific obligations. These include participating in physical training sessions, engaging in close order drill instruction, attending leadership laboratories, participating in colors ceremonies (raising and lowering the flag), and contributing to the maintenance of the battalion spaces. This chapter provides detailed outlines of each of these essential requirements.

2. The normal weekly schedule includes, but is not limited to, the following. This schedule is not concrete and is subject to change by AD staff.

a. Physical Training: The entire Battalion will conduct Physical Training (PT) at least once per week (typically Monday). Additional PT sessions required for individuals in the Fitness Enhancement Program (FEP) will be conducted twice a week (typically Thursday and Friday). Marine Platoon will generally PT one additional time per week (typically on Tuesday).

b. Leadership Lab: This will be conducted once per week (typically Wednesday) for two hours. This time will be utilized to conduct required General Military Training (GMT) and conduct training/lessons for the leadership development of the Battalion. This time frequently involves guest speakers from various communities within the Navy and Marine Corps.

c. Naval Development Training (NDT) is conducted once per week (typically Tuesday) and is required for all Navy Option MIDN and OCs.

d. NS 105 is conducted once per week (typically Thursday) for two hours and is required for all Marine Option MIDN and MECEPs.

3. In addition to the regularly scheduled events listed above, other events may require student attendance throughout the semester. These events will be passed down through the Battalion COC.

4. Academic Roadmaps provide an overview for all MIDN regarding their path from entering this program through commissioning. These products are provided as a guide and shall be utilized by MIDN in coordination with their active-duty advisors to help plan for success. See the Roadmaps in Appendix 5-A.

5-2 Conduct of Colors

1. Conducting morning and evening colors, the ceremonial raising and lowering of our national flag, is a revered military tradition demonstrating respect and dedication to our nation and service. This ritual is carried out with professionalism, precise execution, and punctual observance. The uniform requirement for participating in colors is the uniform of the day. If Midshipmen have morning colors during or after a battalion evolution, their schedule will be deconflicted through their COC to allow adequate time to conduct colors. At the start of each academic year, the AMOI will provide training on the proper procedures for conducting colors, ensuring that all participants are well versed in this important tradition.

2. The BN SgtMaj will determine the colors watchbill at the beginning of each semester. MIDN are responsible for ensuring that they are present for their scheduled day. Colors duty is split between the Navy/Marine Corps, Army, and Air Force/Space Force branches of the ROTC program at the University of Arizona.

3. Colors will be conducted as follows:

a. Colors detail will be monitored by MIDN 3/C or above. This individual is responsible for ensuring that the colors procedures are properly carried out. This individual shall evaluate the readiness of the colors detail by conducting a practice run prior to the evolution being carried out.

b. The flag will be raised sharply at 0800 and lowered sharply at 1600 daily. Any exception will be based exclusively on an unavoidable conflict approved by the BN SgtMaj.

c. The colors schedule will be published in the POW each week the NROTC Unit has duty. Each member is responsible for ensuring they know if/when they have color duty.

5-3 Cleaning Detail

1. Maintaining good order and cleanliness is a fundamental aspect of military excellence. To uphold this standard, the responsibility for the upkeep and cleaning of the battalion spaces is assigned weekly to a specific Platoon. This duty rotates among all Platoons on a weekly basis. The Platoon Commander of the designated Platoon is ultimately accountable for the cleanliness of these spaces during their assigned duty period. However, it is the individual responsibility of each platoon member to regularly check the POW to stay informed about their scheduled cleaning duty.

2. The BN SgtMaj is responsible for the oversight and conduct of the cleaning program.

3. The names of individuals on the colors detail shall be provided by the appropriate PltCmdrs and given to the S-3 in order to be included on the POW.

4. Battalion spaces include the Wardroom, the classroom, and the second deck common area outside AD offices. Excess gear and personal items will not be stored in any of these spaces.

5-5 Physical Fitness

1. Your level of physical fitness will be continuously assessed throughout your time at the University of Arizona. This includes two official fitness tests (PRT/PFT) per term as well as the CFT for Marine Option MIDN. Physical Fitness is crucial to your success in this program. Fitness standards required for commissioning are outlined in reference (a).

2. Fitness Enhancement Program (FEP) and Limited Light Duty (LLD).

a. If you fail to meet the physical standards of the NROTC program, you will be assigned to FEP. Those standards are an excellent low in each category of pushups, plank, and 1.5 mile run as described for the 20–24-year-old age group. FEP is conducted twice per week and is designed to assist you in achieving the program standards. FEP will not make you achieve these standards alone, and it is incumbent upon you to meet the standards. The opportunity to get off of FEP will be provided at numerous intervals throughout the semester through mock physical fitness tests.

b. The standards for Navy option MIDN are an excellent low in every category of the PRT: pushups, plank, and a 1.5 mile run as described for the 20 to 24 year age group at an elevation less than 5,000'.

c. he standards for Marine option MIDN are score of 250 on the PFT and CFT. Failure to meet tha minimum score on one of the tests will result in being placed on FEP.

d. If you are injured and are assigned to LLD, you are still required to show up to Battalion PT events and will conduct a workout prescribed by the Command Fitness Leader (CFL).

3. The NROTC program is fortunate to have the services of an athletic trainer available, free for use by MIDN, MECEPs, and OCs. The Athletic Trainer (AT) may be consulted by students to aid in treatment of injuries. The AT is in the physical therapy room at the back of the Army Cadet lounge on the first floor of South Hall. The AT's hours may vary and will generally be published at the start of each semester.

5-6 Marine Platoon

1. Marine Platoon PT provides Marine Option MIDN and MECEPs with an opportunity to build esprit de corps, physical fitness, and mental toughness. Marine Platoon PT prepares Marine Option MIDN for the Marine Physical Fitness Test, Combat Fitness Test, Obstacle Course, and evaluated hikes at OCS and TBS. Marine Platoon PT is mandatory for all Marine Options MIDN and MECEPs.

2. Marine Small Unit Leadership Training , provides Marine Option MIDN with enhanced training in topics that will prepare them for Officer Candidates School and are relevant to their future service in the Marine Corps. This training covers topics such as USMC History, small unit tactics, land navigation, and troop leading skills. This training is mandatory for all Marine Option MIDN and MECEPs.

3. Marine Platoon conducts a Small Unit Leadership Field Exercise (FEX) every academic year. The FEX provides Marine Option MIDN the opportunity to refine field craft skills and apply small unit leadership tactics in realistic Small Unit Leadership Evaluations. Attendance of the FEX is mandatory for all Marine Option MIDN and MECEPs.

4. Marine Platoon conducts a Pre-Officer Candidate School (OCS) FEX every Spring Semester. This event provides Marine Option MIDN the opportunity to prepare for OCS. Attendance is mandatory for all Marine Option MIDN.

5. Marines are held to exacting personal appearance standards that are reinforced daily. Marine Option MIDN enrolled in this program will adhere to the same grooming standards required of all Marines, to include haircuts, shaving, mustaches, nail color, and related requirements. All male active-duty Marines and Marine Option MIDN will obtain a haircut at least weekly to maintain Marine Corps grooming standards.

5-7 Naval Development Training

1. Naval Development Training (NDT) provides Navy Option MIDN and OCs with enhanced training opportunities and professional development relevant to their future assignments within the naval service.

5-8 STA-21 & MECEP Integration

1. Officer Candidates and MECEPs provide valuable fleet experience to the Battalion. While their path is different, the mission is the same: earn a commission into the United States Navy or Marine Corps. As such, OCs and MECEPs are expected to actively participate in the Battalion in order to both share their valuable experience and develop their own abilities. OCs and MECEPs shall participate in all Battalion activities except for those cases where the PNS excuses them per reference (a).

2. For the purposes of advising and interactions with the active-duty staff, the following structure shall generally exist:

a. All STA-21(N) Officer Candidates shall be advised by the Nuclear Power Officer (NPO) for the entirety of their time in the Battalion. Non-nuclear Officer Candidates will be assigned an advisor on a case-by-case basis.

b. All MECEP students shall be advised by the MOI and AMOI for the entirety of their time in the Battalion.

5-9 Student Finance Operations

1. The purpose of the student battalion finance operations is to ensure accurate accounting, transparency, and accountability in the handling of student-led funds. Accurate financial management enables the battalion to support events, track expenditures, and maintain compliance with the NROTC unit, university, and state requirements.

2. The Financial Officer (S-4A) is responsible for managing all Battalion financial accounts. They oversee the operations of the Wardroom Venmo account, the Wells Fargo bank account, and control all flow of funds into and out of the Wardroom Fund. They are responsible for ensuring that monthly financial audits are conducted.

3. The Financial Officer shall keep a record of all revenue, expenditures, and transfers into and out of the Wardroom Fund. This should be done on an Excel (or similar spreadsheet application) sheet to allow for ease of transfer during turnover. This record should be categorized to allow for ease of auditing and to provide insight into long-term trends. Suggested categories include: The Wardroom Geedunk, Navy/Marine Corps Ball, Dining in/out, Club expenditures, Fund Raising, etc.

4. Monthly, the Financial Officer shall download and retain Wells Fargo banking statements and Venmo Account statements. These statements shall be utilized to audit the record of revenue, expenditures, and transfers. Any oddity discovered during audits (suspected fraudulent charges, unexplained differences between the Financial Officer's record and Wells Fargo or Venmo statements, or exceptionally low funds) shall be immediately reported to active-duty staff.

5. A Financial Oversight Board shall be established. This board shall comprise three MIDN, designated in writing by the BNCO. The Financial Officer shall not serve as a board member. The purpose of the Financial Oversight Board is to serve as an outside auditing entity. This board shall convene at the end of each semester and perform an audit of all financial transactions associated with the Wardroom Fund for that semester. Any violations of this instruction or suspected malpractice shall be immediately reported to active-duty staff. The result of the board convening shall be forwarded to the Battalion Advisor for review.

6. Operations of the FinO Tracfone. Because many of the accounts that the FinO oversees require the use of a phone number, a Tracfone was purchased to serve as the phone number for reference for all accounts. This process ensures that there is continued access to all accounts whenever FinO turnover occurs. The phone number attached to this "duty phone" will be used as the primary phone number for the Wells Fargo and Venmo accounts. If a secondary contact number is permitted, the FinO will uilize their personal number.

a. The Tracfone phone number is (520) 301-3501

b. The email account associated with the phone is wardroomcorp@proton.me

c. The phone service is to be renewed on a yearly basis online through the website, tracfone.com.

CHAPTER 6

BATTALION ORGANIZATIONS

6-1 Color Guard

1. Color Guard events are voluntary events that will vary each semester. All requests for Color Guard support will go through the AMOI and be disseminated to the Color Sergeant. For the actual conduct of the color guard reference MCO 5060.20 Marine Corps Drill and Ceremonies Manual

2. Composition of the Color Guard .

a. The standard Navy and Marine Corps color guard consists of 5 individuals. The Color Sergeant will be appointed by the AMOI and is the senior member who carries the National colors and commands the color guard. The Navy and Marine Corps colors will be carried by midshipmen of that specific branch option. Left and right riflemen can be either Navy or Marine Corps options unless otherwise specified. From the left of the National colors the order is Marine Corps and then Navy colors.

b. A Joint Armed Forces Color Guard will consist of eight members; three Army Cadets, two Marine Corps options, one Navy option, one Air Force Cadet, and one Space Force Cadet. The National Color Bearer and commander of a joint color guard will be an Army Cadet. The respective service colors are aligned to the left of the national colors as Army, Marine Corps, Navy, Air Force, and Space Force. Left rifleman will be a Marine Corps option and the right rifleman will be an Army Cadet.

6-2 Unit Clubs

1. To enhance the student experience in the Battalion, numerous warfare-community-centric clubs are available for midshipmen, OCs, and MECEPs to participate in. All clubs are open to every member of the Battalion. Clubs provide the opportunity for interested students to learn more about the warfare community of their interest. Each club is headed by an elected midshipman and is advised by the corresponding active-duty advisor. The available clubs at the University of Arizona are as follows:

a. The Arleigh Burke club is for those interested in becoming a Surface Warfare Officer (SWO). Members learn about different classes of ships employed by the Navy, ship handling/driving, life as a SWO, and much more.

b. The Tailhook club is for those interested in becoming Naval Aviators or Naval Flight Officers (NFOs). Members learn about the various aircraft employed by the Navy and Marine Corps, discuss life as an Aviator/NFO, and partake in field trips whenever possible. Members also receive help in preparing to take the Aviation Selection Test Battery (ASTB).

c. The 770 Society is for those interested in becoming a Submarine Officer or Nuclear SWO. Members learn how the Navy dominates the seas from beneath the surface, including the different classes of submarines, their mission set, life as a nuclear officer, and much more. Members also receive help in preparing for their nuclear accession interviews with Naval Reactors.

d. The SPECWAR club is for those interested in commissioning into the SEAL/EOD communities. Members learn about life as a SEAL/EOD tech, the role of their respective communities in the Navy, and conduct extensive physical training to prepare its' members for the arduous selection process.

e. The Semper Fi club is designed for Marine Options and MECEPs. The club serves as a platform to learn and develop the skills necessary to succeed as a Marine Corps Officer.

CHAPTER 7

BATTALION EVENTS

7-1 Navy/Marine Corps Ball The birthday ball will alternate between the Navy birthday 13 October and the Marine Corps birthday 10 November each year during the Fall semester. The AMOI will coordinate the event and appoint a student Action Officer for the event. The student Action Officer is responsible for coordinating all billets and positions needed for the ceremony as well as securing a venue and catering for the ceremony. The ceremony will be in accordance with MCO 5060.20 Marine Corps Drill and Ceremonies Manual while accommodating the Navy as much as possible.

7-2 Dining In/Mess Night During the Spring semester it is appropriate to have either a formal Dining In/Mess Night or a Warriors Night in a field environment. Both ceremonies will be in accordance with MCO 5060.20 Marine Corps Drill and Ceremonies Manual while accommodating the Navy as much as possible. The AMOI will coordinate the event and appoint a student Action Officer for the event.

7-3 New Student Orientation (NSO) SO is a Midshipmen led event, carried out in the week preceding the official start of the Fall semester, designed to familiarize incoming 4/C Midshipmen with the Battalion structure and weekly schedule prior to the start of their first semester. This is also where new students will become familiar with the standards and practices expected of them as members of the Battalion at the University of Arizona. NSO is NOT New Student Indoctrination (NSI).

7-4 Commissioning Commissioning ceremonies are conducted at the end of the Spring and Fall semesters and generally take place on the Saturday after the school's commencement ceremony. The AMOI will coordinate the event and appoint a student Action Officer (typically a commissionee)

7-5 Volunteer Events Volunteer events provide a great opportunity for NROTC students to practice their leadership skills, engage with the community, and often earn money for the Wardroom Fund. MIDN are encouraged to volunteer as much as possible throughout their time in the NROTC program.

CHAPTER 8

AWARDS, RIBBONS, AND UNIFORMS

8-1 Unit Awards

1. The Professor of Naval Science (PNS) recognizes outstanding midshipmen performance by presenting awards for excellence in academics, performance of duty, and military aptitude. These awards are typically presented at an annual ceremony. These awards are the MIDN of the Month (MOTM) and the MIDN of the Semester (MOTS). These awards do not have an associated ribbon.

2. The BN SgtMaj is responsible for soliciting recommendations for the above awards and providing a list of recommended recipients to the BNXO. The BNXO will review the recommendations and forward them to the BNCO for presentation to AD staff. The AD staff will make the final decisions for unit awards.

a. Recommendations to the AD staff shall be provided by the third Wednesday of every month for BMOM and by the Wednesday of the fourteenth week of the semester for MOTS.

b. Once awardees have been determined by AD staff, the BN SgtMaj is responsible for the printing of awards and gaining the signature of the PNS prior to award presentations.

8-2 NROTC Ribbons

1. Battalion leadership and AD staff are responsible for the nominations and awarding of ribbons. That said, it is incumbent upon the proposed recipient to inform their chain of command if they qualify for recognition that would not normally be recognized by the unit (i.e. the intramural ribbon). The administrative process is as follows:

a. The nomination for the award is presented to the BN SgtMaj through the chain of command. This routing process starts with the PltCmdr and then the COCO prior to the BN SgtMaj. The BN SgtMaj is responsible for validating that the nominee is qualified for the ribbon per reference (a). The BN SgtMaj will then route the nomination through the BNXO and BNCO. Following review and approval by the BNCO, the BN SgtMaj will award the nominee the ribbon.

b. NROTC ribbons are to be kept in the Wardroom supply closet and are the responsibility of the BN SgtMaj.

c. The S-4 is responsible for ensuring an adequate supply of ribbons and award paper. The S-4 shall coordinate with the unit's supply tech when more ribbons or awards paper are needed.

2. The wear of NROTC awards, ribbons, and medals is as follows:

a. NROTC unit and local/organization awards or insignia are not authorized for wear during summer training.

b. Battalion ribbons and medals are only authorized for wear on campus at the University of Arizona, at Pima Community College, or at unit events in the local area.

c. Active-Duty personnel are authorized to wear active-duty ribbons/medals. Active-duty ribbons/medals shall not be intermixed with NROTC ribbons/medals.

d. Standard Navy/Marine Corps uniform regulations shall be followed concerning the placement and wear of ribbons/medals.

3. Battalion awards and ribbons are listed in order of precedence from highest to lowest below. A description of the requirements to be awarded each ribbon is also listed. Visuals of the ribbons and precedence is given in reference (a).

a. All Around Performance Ribbon. Awarded for the most outstanding performance in the fields of academics, physical fitness training, community service, and military criteria.

b. Academic Excellence Ribbon. Awarded to midshipmen with an overall average of 3.50 – 3.75 (on a 4.00 scale).

c. Academic Achievement Ribbon. Awarded annually to MIDN with an overall average of 3.50-3.75 (on a 4.00 scale).

d. Commendation Award Ribbon. Awarded to midshipmen for recognition of meritorious achievements.

e. Leadership Award Ribbon. Awarded to midshipmen who have shown exemplary conduct and leadership while members of the staff.

f. Community Service Ribbon. Awarded to those recognized for meritorious services to the community.

g. Physical Fitness Ribbon. Awarded to those with a score in PFT of 290 points.

h. Drill Team Ribbon. Awarded to midshipmen participating in any drill team for one academic semester.

i. Color Guard Ribbon. Awarded to midshipmen in the unit color guard or drum and bugle corps for one academic semester.

j. Intramural Ribbon. Awarded to those who participated in any form of organized sports for one academic semester.

k. Rifle/Pistol Team Ribbon. Awarded to any member of the rifle/pistol team for one academic semester.

l. Honor Class Ribbon. Honor Class Ribbon recognizes the YG with the highest GPA and PRT scores at the unit. Other metrics incorporated at PNS discretion.

m. Recruiting Ribbon. Awarded to midshipmen instrumental in the enrollment of new NROTC recruits.

n. Cruise Award Ribbon. Awarded to midshipmen who achieved excellent grades on cruises.

o. Gold and Silver Stars. Wear gold stars for second and subsequent awards. Wear silver stars in lieu of five gold stars.

(1) Center a single star on the ribbon with two rays pointing down.

(2) Place multiple stars in a horizontal line close to and symmetrically above the center of the ribbon.

8-3 Uniform Guidance

1. The Uniform-of-the-Day will be designated on all POWs for every event. It is expected that all midshipmen, OCs, and MECEPs wear the proper uniform for every Battalion event. The wear of ribbons and insignia shall follow standard Navy and Marine Corps uniform regulations. When questions arise, midshipmen shall seek guidance from their immediate superior.

2. The Physical Training (PT) uniform will be as follows:

a. For Navy Option midshipmen and OCs: The standard Navy blue shorts with either the blue athletic PT shirt or the yellow PT shirt. Either the sweatshirt/sweatpant combo or fitness suit may be worn during cold weather.

b. For Marine Option midshipmen and MECEPs: The standard Marine Corps olive-green shorts and PT shirt. Either the olive-green sweatshirt/sweatpant combo or the running suit may be worn during cold weather.

c. The Navy and Marine Corps sweatshirt/sweatpants combo may be worn either as the sweatshirt alone or as the complete sweatshirt and sweatpants set. Sweatpants shall not be worn without the sweatshirt.

d. When “boots & utes” is the prescribed uniform item, that shall be interpreted as the NWU/MCUU trousers with the Unit PT shirt and the appropriate service boot.

3. South Hall, while surrounded by a college campus, remains a place of official business for all NROTC personnel. All active-duty personnel and midshipmen shall maintain a professional appearance in South Hall. The appropriate attire is referred to as Appropriate Civilian Attire (ACA) and shall be the normal wear within the unit when not wearing another prescribed uniform. ACA shall be interpreted as follows:

a. Covers, hats, and ball caps are to be removed when in South Hall.

b. Any jewelry attached by means of body piercing (e.g. nose rings and lip piercings), other than earrings, in good taste, for females, is not authorized for any personnel while conducting business in South Hall.

c. Tank tops are authorized when conducting physical training (PT) but may only be worn in South Hall while enroute to PT.

d. T-shirts and collared shirts will be worn with professionalism and will not contain obscene or distasteful designs, patterns, phrases, etc.

e. Sleeveless blouses are allowed provided that the straps are 2 inches or wider. Blouses are not required to be tucked in, but midriff and back must be covered.

f. Clothing must not be ripped or torn.

g. Any time a shirt is tucked in, the wear of a belt is required.

h. Shorts and trousers designed for Physical Training shall not be worn as ACA. A common delineation of such shorts and trousers is the presence of belt loops or a back pocket.

i. Skirts and dresses must extend beyond the mid-thigh while seated or standing.

j. Shoes, boots, and sandals are permissible as part of the attire. However, sandals with thin plastic soles intended for use as “shower shoes” shall not be worn.

k. PT gear is authorized while enroute to and from physical activities. Additionally, the wear of PT gear is authorized in South Hall if you are expeditiously checking your mailbox. However, PT gear is not ACA and is not permitted while conducting business in South Hall. This includes tights, silkies, and other similar clothing.

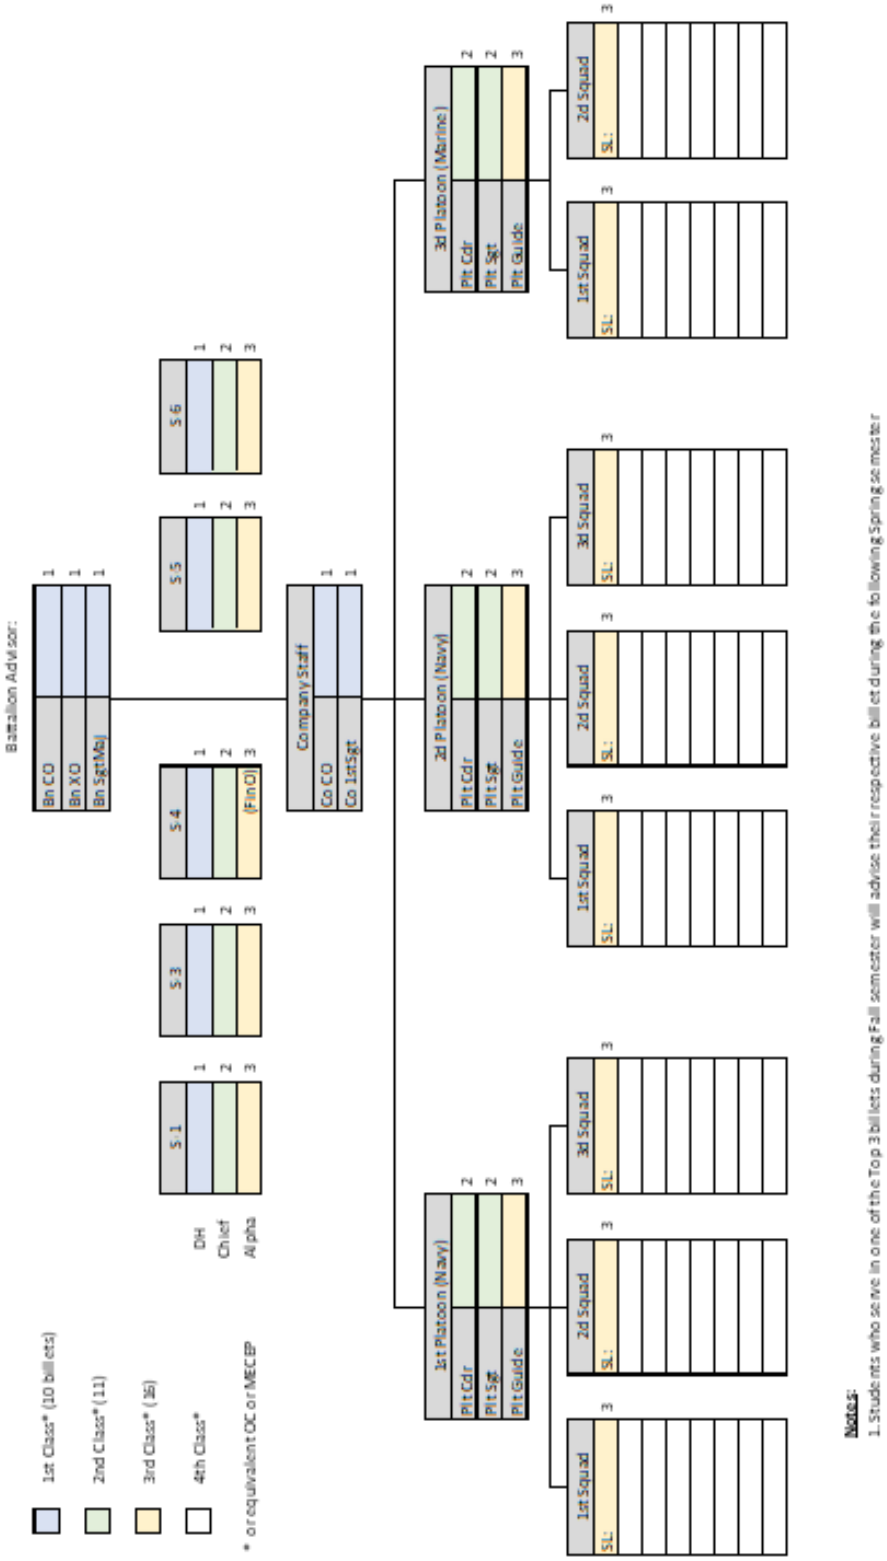

l. Headphones may be worn while studying in South Hall, but they will be removed when walking to and from the head, while conducting business inside South Hall, or when entering/exiting South Hall.

m. Other clothing not specifically mentioned in this instruction shall be worn with common sense and good taste. Acceptability is at the discretion of the command.

Mentee Major:
Mentee Hometown:

1. What do you want to do in the Navy/Marine Corps?

2. What other time commitments do you currently have or anticipate having outside of ROTC (including academic load, work, other extracurriculars, etc.)?

3. What are your hobbies and interests?

4. Do you have any unique skills, talents, or experience (play an instrument, experience with auto repair, JROTC, etc.)?

5. What do you assess as your current strengths and weaknesses?

6. What is your most recent PRT/PFT score (give times for run, pushups/pullups, and the plank as well as overall score)?

Appendix 3-E Mentee Goal Form

Mentee Name: Date:
Mentor Name:
Mentors should use this form at their initial meeting with their mentee to gain an understanding of the mentee's goals for the term and the program overall. This form is required to be referenced at each of the two monthly meetings as described in section 3-4.3.C. This form is encouraged to be referenced when more frequent meetings occur to help guide discussions towards achieving goals.

1. List 3-4 S.M.A.R.T goals. S.M.A.R.T goals are goals which are Specific, Measurable, Attainable, Relevant, and Time-bound. You are encouraged to think about goals in both a professional (Navy/Marine Corps or academic related) and a personal (leadership style, personality traits, hobby development) sense.

2. For each of the goals listed above, write out the action steps (what is required to accomplish these goals; what are you going to do to ensure you achieve these goals), the measurement you will use to judge success (GPA, run time, number of books read, etc.), and the deadline for accomplishing this goal.

GOAL	ACTION STEPS	MEASURE OF SUCCESS	DEADLINE

Appendix 3-E Mentee Goal Form

The following is meant to act as a guide when evaluating the mentee's progress towards achieving his or her goals. Not all of these questions may be relevant. Mentors are encouraged to consult and discuss these questions with their mentee, but it is not required.

What actions have you (mentee) taken to accomplish your goals? How do these compare to the action steps you initially assigned? Do you need to revise your action steps?

What struggles have you encountered in pursuing these goals? What did you do to solve these struggles? Is there a struggle that you have not been able to overcome?

What does your current progress towards your goals look like? Have you achieved any? Do you need to set a new goal?

Were any of your initial goals too ambitious? Do you need to revise any goal?

Have I (the mentor) been a valuable resource in helping you achieve these goals? Is there anything that I can do better to help you in your pursuit of your goals?

Appendix 3-F Mentor Feedback Form

The purpose of this form is to provide mentors with the opportunity to provide feedback to the appropriate Platoon Commander regarding the relationship they have formed with their mentee. This feedback, in addition to the mentee provided feedback, will be utilized in evaluating mentor-mentee pairings.
